NEW CITY COMMISSIONERS TAKE THEIR SEATS THIS AFTERNOON; POWER MACHINERY CONSIDERED

Effort Will Probably Be Made to Break Deadlock that Has Existed for Some Time Between Council and Commissioners in Regard to City Business

NEED OF NEW MACHINERY IS GROWING MORE ACUTE AS THE CITY DEVELOPS

The commissioners are holding a meeting this afternoon at which considerable business of importance will come up for consideration. Commissioners Gandy and Agar will take their seats for the first time and it is probable that one of the chief topics of discussion will be the purchase of power machinery, the problem over which the commissioners and council have been deadlocked for several weeks.

The mayor and council are anxious that the contract for this machinery should be let at as early a date as possible, in order that there may be no shortage of power this winter. The commissioners, however, have adopted another attitude and have taken the ground that there is no hurry for the purchase of additional machinery, in spite of the fact that five superintendents have stated that a machine of not less than 200 h. p. capacity will be needed.

It is stated that Commissioner Bouillon is of the opinion that the purchase of additional machinery, in spite of the fact that five superintendents have stated that a machine of not less than 200 h. p. capacity will be needed.

WIELDS A RAZOR SERIOUS EFFECT

DRUNKEN BRAWL RESULTS IN CUTTING AFFAIR BETWEEN ITALIAN WORKMEN

Nelson, B.C., May 25.—Dominica Scarsini, an Italian employed by the Consolidated company in a line quarry at Fife was nearly killed early this morning by a fellow countryman in a drunken brawl at a boarding house of men. The would-be murderer used a razor. Scarsini was badly slashed on the head and right arm. The latter was cut to the bone and a main artery severed from which he would have died from loss of blood had not the arm been tied up. He is now in a hospital at Grand Forks. Dr. Kingston and Dr. Greave, secretary for India, Louis Harcourt, colonial secretary, Lord Kitchener and Lord Escher, the two latter being members of the committee on

EXTREME PENALTY PAID BY GREVOLA

ITALIAN HANGED IN MONTREAL JAIL FOR MURDER OF FELLOW COUNTRYMAN

Montreal, May 25.—Francesco Grevola, 20 years old, paid the penalty at 8 o'clock at the Montreal jail for the murder of Giorgio Ghini. He was the first Italian to be hanged in the province of Quebec. Grevola, as the hour of death approached, went into hysterics and at last had to be carried bodily up the scaffold and supported by the rope was adjourned and the last offices of the church carried out. He utterly collapsed at the last. The hangman was the same who officiated at the execution of Timothy Gandy. One hundred policemen surrounded the scaffold and the crowd was kept at bay by the use of tear gas. At 8 o'clock, exactly the hangman drew the bolt and Grevola's body slid through the trap. His neck was broken and death instantaneous.

BIG INITIATION IN THE LOCAL AERIE

MANY CANDIDATES FOR MIDNIGHT MEETING OF THE EDMONTON EAGLES

In order to accommodate a large number of the candidates who are compelled to work late on Saturday nights, this week's meeting of Aerie 1052 will begin the initiation of the largest class ever joined in the local Eagles, at 11 p.m. After the new members have been given words a special social session will be held and visiting members of the order will take a special part in the work of this session.

Much business will be before the series including the final arrangements for the coronation of the grand eagle in San Francisco in August.

Between 20 and 30 members will be put through at 11 p.m. and the local officers are more than elated at the success which the aerie is achieving, and the promise for even a greater increase in the near future are very rosy.

GERMAN ACCUSED OF KILLING A HORSE

TO BE TRIED IN THE DISTRICT COURT BEFORE JUDGE NOEL

The law-abiding character of settlers of the northern outposts of Alberta is illustrated in a striking manner by the smallness of the docket of criminal cases which are to come up for hearing in the district court of Athabasca Landing in the course of Judge Noel's annual tour through the north. One of the criminal cases to be heard at Beaver Lake district, will come up for trial during the six weeks tour. Eugene Gernert, of Beaver Lake, was charged with shooting and killing a pinto mare, the property of one Peter Parzelski, while a charge of shooting a cow horse. He is charged with the murder of a horse named against Garnet Trux.

Judge Noel will leave for Athabasca Landing tomorrow and in the course of his annual itinerary, will hold sessions of the court at Athabasca Landing, Lesser Slave Lake, Peace River Crossing, Duvegan, Beaver Lodge and Port Vernon. A considerable number of civil cases will come up for trial at each of these points. His honor expects to return to Edmonton in about six weeks time.

There is a possibility that Col. Gaunders, inspector of the R. N. W. M. P. detachment at Athabasca Landing, will make his annual tour of detachments in company with Judge Noel, in which the inspection will commence early next week.

Judge Noel will be accompanied by E. W. Weisbach, clerk of the district court of Athabasca Landing.

HART BROTHERS TO ERECT A FOUR STOREY BLOCK.
Arrangements are being made by Hart Brothers, proprietors of the Bowland Clubhouse, on Jasper avenue east to erect a four storey business block on their property in the summer. It is expected that construction work will commence within the next month. The ground floor of the structure will be devoted to offices. A foundation capable of supporting a four storey structure is to be installed so that it will be possible to extend the height of the building when ever an extension is required.

Alderman Lundy Testifies that Commissioner Insisted on the City's Chief Executive Falling in Line With His Ideas on Municipal Affairs

DIFFERENCES AMONG COMMISSIONERS TOUCHED ON IN THE TESTIMONY GIVEN

That Commissioner Bouillon had laid down the decree that Mayor Armstrong must fall in line with his views or his position as mayor would be made untenable, was the evidence given by Alderman Lundy before the investigating committee this morning. O. M. Biegar in his cross examination did not attempt to refute the evidence given by the witness, contenting himself with bringing up a number of technical points in an attempt to show that the memory of the witness was not the best in the world. Witness stated that he had several conversations with the commissioner and had learned that there was friction in the commissioners' offices. Just what the bone of contention was, he had not learned definitely. He considered, however, that the commissioners should work together for the best interests of the city.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO HAVE MEDALS

The secretary of the coronation celebration committee this morning cabled to Owen and Robinson, Leeds, England, an order for the medals which are to be distributed to the school children of Edmonton prior to the parade on June 22.

The medals are gilt pendants, artistic in design and appropriate to the occasion. One will be given to each pupil of any public or private school in the city, probably on June 21, to be worn in the big parade on coronation day.

The medals are designed to be kept by the land children as mementoes of the notable event, and are similar to those which are to be used in the English schools.

Edmonton Lumber Mills Are Sawing Some Wood to Meet Active Demand

The local lumber mills which commenced operation at the beginning of this week are gradually getting into running order and a very day the plants will be working at full capacity, turning out more than 100,000 feet of lumber per day.

The beams along the river at the various mills are filled with logs which are being converted into lumber. The Edmonton Lumber company is operating an entirely new plant this year with a daily capacity of between 30,000 and 40,000 feet per day. It is expected that this mill will turn out approximately three and a half million feet of lumber this season.

The mills of the D. R. Fraser company commenced operations last Friday when the first large quantity of logs reached the home of the stream. This plant has a capacity of about 10,000 feet per day. The mills of John Walter and company also are put in operation late last week and are gradually getting around to the point where they will be producing lumber at the full capacity.

With regard to danger from flood, the mill men are practically in a position as they were last year and the year previous, in spite of the heavy expenditure at Goose Island encampment, in the part of the Dominion govern-

ENCOUNTER ROCK WITH G. T. P. LINE

CONTRACTORS PREPARED TO REMOVE IMMENSE QUANTITIES IN THE MOUNTAIN SECTION

D. A. McGill of the firm of Ross and McGill who put through the immense rock cut in Prince Rupert City, the largest in the entire length of the National Transcontinental, from which more than 400,000 cubic yards of rock were removed, is in Edmonton, negotiating with the contracting firm of Foley, Welsh and Stewart for a subcontract in rock work on the mountain section of the G. T. P. line. He is guest at the Glen Elbow.

Foley, Welsh and Stewart hold the contract for the construction of the G. T. P. grade from Prairie Creek, the present head of steel on the line to Tele Jean Creek, some distance west of the summit. A great deal of the work will be let out in sub contracts and contractors are going over the line every week taking up the situation with a view of taking portions of the work. Mr. McGill's firm probably will take a contract in the roughest part of the mountain section, for these men have been engaged in rock work in difficult

Question of Representation Discussed Last Evening at the Amalgamation Meeting

JOINT COMMITTEE IN STRATHCONA COVERED MUCH GROUND IN CONSIDERING THE VARIOUS MATTERS OF INTEREST TO TWIN CITIES.

Strathcona, May 25.—Last night's meeting of the amalgamation boards of the two cities served further to prove that the union of Edmonton and Strathcona, however favorably the majority of citizens view the proposition, cannot be properly consummated within a short space of time. This meeting, as all other meetings have been, was marked by the broadest spirit of consideration, but as results go, there was no great stride towards a perfected agreement. The proposed extensions of street railways on the south side, as requested by the Strathcona board, was a subject which was referred to the Edmonton members for investigation and the question of a bridge across the river at a point near the White Mud creek was passed along in the same manner. The two bodies reached an agreement respecting the proposed low level bridge near the south side power house.

The big discussion of the evening was brought up by Dr. Torg, who referred again to the proposed basis of representation in the government of the amalgamated city. This was a problem which in a measure disposed of at a previous meeting, but the real solution of the matter lay far deeper. With some proper provision for satisfactory elections required. He disliked the ward system, which would result from two separate elections, and suggested that some adjustment be worked out along the lines of a general election for council representatives, the three candidates—or the number allowed on a population basis—receiving the highest number of votes on the south side of the river to be elected, the proportionate number of the north side being chosen likewise. In this way he thought the lines of difference

Holdings Edmonton Banks Run Into Figures Closely Approaching Million Mark

VALUE OF PROPERTY OWNED BY FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS HAS STEADILY INCREASED—WILL BRING MORE THAN VALUATION PLACED.

Nine of the fourteen chartered banks doing business in the city of Edmonton, and three large loan companies, are today possessed of real estate holdings in the heart of the business district, the value of which is assessed at $1,000,000 for the present year, and as yet unreviewed of little less than $889,000, or nearly two and a half per cent. of the city's total land assessment. Bank building already erected in the city, and the edifices of the Canadian Pacific, the Canada Permanent Loan and Mortgage Corporation and the National Trust company, have involved the expenditure of $552,000 in their construction, bringing the investment in real property and in buildings, to the end of the year of a million and a half dollars.

In a period of twenty years, these values have been increased, when G. R. Kirkpatrick, manager of the Imperial Bank in Edmonton, opened the first branch of the first chartered bank to be established in the city, the site of the present $100,000 building, or of any one of the massive buildings, which now house Edmonton's financial institutions, would have been bought for an old home. Lots on Jasper avenue were then selling for $100 each; Edmonton was a village, an outpost of civilization situated in a country which the geographers and prophets of those days had determined must forever remain an outpost, a far trailing centre and nothing more. But it is more particularly during the last ten years that the increase in financial strength of the capital city of Alberta, has attracted to Edmonton financial institutions of which a metropolis of many times her size might well be proud. And it is almost entirely during the last decade, and especially during

BOOSTING HOME TRADE CAMPAIGN

EDMONTON BOARD OF TRADE ENLISTING SUPPORT OF WOMEN FOR HOME INDUSTRIES

The letter sent by Secretary Fisher of the board of trade to women of the city two weeks ago, calling attention to the "buying at home" campaign inaugurated by a special committee of the board of trade, will be followed up next week with another letter by which an effort will be made to ascertain the reasons why consumers prefer some foreign manufactured articles to home-made goods.

On the back of the letter a blank appears in which the housewife is requested to place the name of the article bought from outside firms while it may be obtained from manufacturers in the city, and to give the reasons for not patronizing the home industry. In this way it is hoped it will be possible to ascertain whether the outside products are considered better or cheaper or whether they are so widely advertised that the goods manufactured in Edmonton.

EX-CHIEF OF POLICE LANCEY HAD TO GREAT RESPECT FOR COMMISSIONER BOULLON

RESIGNED WHEN HE FOUND THAT UTILITIES COMMISSIONER WAS TRYING TO TAKE DIRECT CHARGE OF ALL CIVIC DEPARTMENTS—ALSO OBJECTED TO THE COMMISSIONER CRITICISING SUPERINTENDENTS THROUGH THE PRESS.

A. G. Lancey, ex-chief of the Edmonton police force, who stated in the press a few days after he resigned that he had done so because he had no respect for Utilities Commissioner Bouillon, was the chief witness before the investigating committee of the council yesterday afternoon.

Asked as to whether or not he had been dismissed, Mr. Lancey replied that he had not been but on the contrary had resigned of his own accord. The underlying reason for resigning was that he did not feel that his position was secure and besides he did not care to work under a person who was in the habit of criticizing his superintendents through the public press. He referred to an attack on Superintendent Griffiths, of the telephone department, by Commissioner Bouillon.

Witness stated that he had been hired by the council and was under the impression that he was to be under a number of commissioners and aldermen and wished to say that he had worded his letter of resignation as he did to show that he felt he was well treated by all of them. His letter, however, did not refer to Commissioner Bouillon. He had found out that Commissioner Bouillon was trying to take control of all the different civic departments and did not propose to be subjected to any such treatment. Consequently he had resigned. He had not resigned to take a better position as the salaries were about the same. In fact he did not consider the prospects as good as those he had when he was the head of the police force.

Asked by Mr. Biggar whether or not he objected to Mr. Bouillon's appointment because he was a French-Canadian, witness replied that he did not. Mr. Biggar: "Did you not tell Mr. Bouillon that you had your opinions regarding people of that nationality?"

Witness: "I do not remember making such a statement."

Mr. Biggar: "But isn't it true?"

Witness: "It is not true."

Dr. Whitelaw.

Dr. Whitelaw, called to the witness stand, stated that he found the law books in the market building in an unsanitary condition due to the fact that the floors had not been properly constructed. In fact, he had never seen floors of that kind in a building of that class. It was next to impossible to keep them sanitary as they were so rough boards, whereas they should have been of tile which could be scrubbed off.

Donald Ross, master mechanic of the car barns, testified that he had made out a requisition for two spare motors. This requisition was sent to Commissioner Bouillon and returned by him marked void. The refusal to purchase the motors had resulted in the cars being idle up whenever a motor wore out. Had they had the extras the service could have been kept up to the standard.

Mayor Armstrong.

Mayor Armstrong when placed on the stand, swore that a letter sent to the commissioners by the ex-superintendent of the street railway department had never been presented at a regular commissioners' meeting.

Mr. Biggar then attempted to show that the councilors and mayor were biased by asking a number of questions with respect to the appointment of two new commissioners.

Mr. Biggar: "Why were two new commissioners appointed?"

Mr. Metcalf: "The question is irrelevant and has nothing to do with the charges laid."

Biggar: "Have you determined to fire the present commissioners?"

Metcalf: "I object. Same reason."

Biggar: "Did you acquiesce to the appointment of new commissioners?"

Metcalf: "I object."

Biggar: "Is it not true that the appointments are only temporary and simply to out-vote my clients?"

Metcalf: "I object."

Mr. Biggar put these questions to each succeeding witness, but none were answered upon the advice of Mr. Metcalf.

Alderman Grindley.

Alderman Grindley was the next witness and told Mr. Metcalf when the pumps for the filter were ordered through his firm. They were delivered according to contract. They could have been delivered in January had the order been placed when the commissioners first knew they were needed.

Mr. Biggar: "The chief question before the council has been the purchase of power machinery, has it not?"

Witness: "I refuse to answer."

Biggar: "The engineer appointed by the council recommended purchase of machinery from your firm?"

Witness: "I consider the question an insult and refuse to answer."

Biggar: "You could not show more bias than you are doing. I insist that the chairman instruct the witness to answer."

Mr. Metcalf: "Nothing of the kind. Your questions are a direct insult to the witness, Mr. Biggar. Were they made to me I would answer to them personally outside of this room. They are insulting and I have heard witnesses here to give evidence which may assist in clearing up this matter and I did not bring them here to be insulted."

Biggar: "Do not give me your personal opinions. I do not care for them."

Metcalf: "I do not propose to sit here and see witnesses badgered and insulted."

Biggar: "I only want a ruling that the witness need not answer. I have that now."

Metcalf: "You have nothing of the kind. You have a ruling with respect to specific questions. That is all."

The committee then adjourned.

"NE TEMERE" DECREE IS SUBJECT DISCUSSION

FIRST DRAFT OF NEW STATUTE SHEET ISSUED BY METHODIST CONFERENCE COMMITTEE—NEW PRESIDENT NAMED YESTERDAY.

Calgary, May 26.—The general meeting of the Methodist conference got to work, and a general session was held, and a great deal of business was transacted in a very short time.

Rev. A. W. Haghighi, principal of the Industrial School, Red Deer, was elected president for the coming year. Rev. G. W. Welch, of Okotoks, was also elected secretary. Rev. A. Richards and Rev. J. A. W. Haghighi were appointed assistant secretaries.

At the conclusion of the devotional meeting Dr. Chown, the general superintendent, gave a short, fiery and strenuous address on the "Ne Temere" decree. "The Methodist church cannot sit still under this," said Dr. Chown. "It means that the sanctity of the home is invaded. This will interfere with civil and religious liberty of the people. It means that all children who are the result of a mixed marriage will be in the terrible position of being illegitimate."

At the conclusion of the doctor's speech the new president made a short speech.

At the conclusion of the doctor's speech the new president made a short speech.

At the afternoon session Mayor Mitchell delivered an address of welcome in which he strongly favored church union. The report of the stationing committee was received and passed without change. It is in part as follows:

NEW CHICAGO AS AN INDIAN SETTLEMENT

Chicago, Ill., May 26.—Fernando Jones, chief of the many Indians today on the occasion of his ninety-first birthday anniversary. Mr. Jones was born in Chiquago County, N. Y., in 1820, and came to Chicago with a load of hardware fifteen years later. The "city" at that time consisted of a few houses clustered around old Fort Dearborn, and the trade was principally with the Indians. Mr. Jones has seen Chicago grow from a town of a few hundred people to a metropolis of 2,500,000, and, as he told his friends today, he hopes to see two years and a Chicago of 1,000,000 people.

BENEFIT FOR HORAN'S FAMILY

Chicago, Ill., May 26.—An unusually large crowd flocked to the American league grounds this afternoon to witness the baseball game played by the Chicago and Philadelphia teams for the benefit of the late Fire Marshall James Horan, who lost his life in the stockyards fire last winter. The deal team was an ardent baseball enthusiast. The Chicago club, with the sanction of the league officers, decided to donate the entire receipts of the game to the Horan family.

In this best paragraph in a remarkable speech, Sulzer says:

"For years I have been advocating true reciprocity with our sister to the north. As I view the situation, we either attempt to go too far in the one hand, seeking trade at greater expense in discrimination, or we display a lack of business knowledge and exhibit a narrow provincialism on the other hand, declining trade at our doors, pursuing a policy that is as detrimental to our best interests as it is deplorable in our statesmanship. Canadians are our neighbors and our real friends, and they should be our best customers; and they would be our best customers if we only had the commercial sense and the political wisdom to deal

Biggar stated that a would-not examine the witness, but simply to point out that he had affirmed an opinion on one of the facts. An opinion of this kind is not a lie, and he would not, impartially, say that it was.

Superintendent Grierson, of the department, practically corroborated the evidence given by Alderman with respect to the weight of property in the neighborhood of 23000 a foot—

In 1903 the Bank of Commerce, and in 1904, the Bank of Montreal, purchased sites for $3500 a foot where their premises now stand. During these years $300 a foot seems to have been quite a common figure for property in the section of Jasper avenue which was then, as now, the principal business district. Taking the asse-extension up Seventh street west to a point near the university buildings. An extension along Whyte avenue to the university grounds, thence south to University avenue, thence west to McKenzie street, thence south to Sixth avenue, thence east to Main street and lastly to connect with Whyte avenue on Main street, is a belt line included in the demands. From Sixth avenue to the extension of one mile is also asked for along Fifth street west to the southern limits of the city, near the city cemetery. Ald. Tipson pointed out that this is a most important extension. The other extension insisted upon by the local committee was that along Whyte avenue east across Mill viaduct to the city limits, thence north three blocks to the new Lutherford school. This line has been petitioned for by a large number of persons across Mill creek and was apparently an extension viewed favorably by the Edmonton members, through being along the route of the proposed belt line to cross the east end bridge to be.

The requested southwest lines were the most discussed, as the demands were for a completion of the mileage within two years after amalgamation. Whether there was sufficient population to warrant the entire extensions asked for, was the question. The local committee especially, "Have you 2,000 people living along the southwest route?" he asked of Ald. Tipson. "I don't think there are," was the answer. "We are not asking for these lines on a population basis," explained Ald. Tipson. "We will have to stand for the long extensions already down in Edmonton, and want some here to even up matters."

"You want to duplicate the mistakes of Edmonton, do you?" inquired Chairman A. C. Fraser, humorously.

Insist Upon Central Bridge

The revised demands of the Strathcona board regarding a central bridge, and also one over the river near White Mud creek were read and showed practically no change from the proposals made at a previous meeting. A road central bridge in the vicinity of the Strathcona power house was demanded to be completed within 18 months after the date of ratification of the amalgamation agreement. The line of construction on the west end bridge was extended from two to three years in the opinion of other members this plan would not be entirely satisfactory, owing to its preventing perhaps a rapid cementing of interest between the two cities such as is desired.

W. H. Christie suggested that the united municipality be divided into four wards, with one on the south side, for a period of three years, after which an adjustment could be made for holding the elections general over the entire city. In the opinion of other members this plan would not be entirely satisfactory, owing to its preventing perhaps a rapid cementing of interest between the two cities such as is desired.

O. M. Biggar moved a disposition of the question, which was seconded, and agreed to, that an attempt be made to define a system other than the ward system for civic representation in the greater city. In this connection, several Edmonton members said that sentiment on the north side appears to be against ward elections.

Mr. Biggar also read a resolution suggesting that any elective and representative system agreed upon be set aside at the end of five years for a general vote for the council thereafter. This seemed to be fairly well received until Mayor Davies pointed out that there might be a real danger in thus defining a time limit to any new and proposed system for the south side. The change might be generally desired in five years, but he opposed establishing a time for the removal possibility of the representation assurance to the south side.

Draft of Possible Basis. In consequence of this suggestion, Mr. Biggar withdrew the motion regarding a time limit and in its stead presented a draft resolution from which he thought an agreement for elections might be derived. This resolution read as follows:

"That elections for aldermen of the amalgamated city be general vote of the whole city, but that at the first election the proper number or proportion of the candidates, having both the proper residence and property qualifications on the south side of the river, who receive the highest number of votes be declared elected. The remainder of the council to be composed of a sufficient number of the remaining candidates, irrespective of where they have their property qualifications, to fill the whole number required, and that at subsequent elections the same principle be adopted so that there shall always be at least the proper proportion (not less than three) members of the council who have both their residence and property qualifications on the south side of the river."

On question of Mayor Davies, it was generally admitted that in the event of changes being made in the Edmonton charter and thereby perhaps installing a new system of civic government, the pro rata per population representation on the south side would still have effect. In the general opinion it was thought the legislature would fail to ratify any measure manifestly unjust to Strathcona people. Clause three of the adopted recommendations of the joint committee reads as follows:

"That the representatives in the common council shall be pro rata per population with the proviso that there shall be not less than three members, exclusive of Mayor, from the south side of the river."

Halted at Car Line Requests. While going to the Edmonton committee for investigation the question of street railway extensions in this city as insisted upon by the local committee, the subject was fairly well threshed out in the discussion. In addition to the line up Fifth street west the Strathcona members asked for

INDIVIDUAL HALO FOR EVERY HUMAN

London Doctor Says He Is Prepared to Demonstrate That Pain and Intelligently Can Be Measured

London, May 26.—A London doctor, Dr. W. J. Kilner, is prepared to demonstrate in a scientific manner that every human being has a halo. "I am going to ascertain the exact distance between the state of health, makes pain visible and enables the expert to distinguish between intelligent and dull individuals." This discovery of the halo is Dr. W. J. Kilner.

For centuries occultists, spiritualists and other students of the supernatural have declared that the human body while alive is closely surrounded by an aura, or, as they term it, "aura," in other words, a sort of halo which the said was distinctly visible to the great majority of mankind. Dr. Kilner now declares that he has settled the matter on strictly scientific lines.

He has made an apparatus which consists of a number of what he calls spectroscope glass screens, each about four inches in length and an inch and a half wide. Each screen is made of glass plates of very thin glass, between which, hermetically sealed in, is a fluid. The screens vary in color, and the colors are blue, varying in depth of color to suit the eyes of the investigator.

An interviewer gives the following account of his own experience under the direction of Dr. Kilner, a specialist who has taken a deep interest in the investigations. In a small room with the subject of the experiments, a well-made woman of medium height and apparently in good health, Dr. Kilner first of all told her exactly the nature of the experiments he was about to make. Then, having instructed the reporter to look steadily at the daylight through one of the spectroscope screens and having lowered the window a foot away from a dead, dark background facing the only window in the room, he proceeded to draw the blind halfway down this window. From below he drew up a blind of dark serge until it overlapped the upper blind sufficiently to show light so dim to filter into the room that only the white form of the subject's body could be discerned.

"Now, turn round," said Dr. Kilner, "and tell me what you see, or if you see anything at all, for there are perhaps four or five persons out of every hundred who, through some inherent defect in their eyesight, are physically unable to perceive the 'aura.'"

The Halo Appears. For some moments, perhaps, a quarter of a minute, the only object that could be made out in the darkness was the subject's body. Then, gradually, as the eyes grew accustomed to the darkness, a sort of triangular halo of light, within the sides of the body and the angle of the arms, as the subject remained with her hands resting lightly on her hips, the halo came to be seen clearly.

Presently, acting upon Dr. Kilner's instructions, the subject raised and extended first one arm, then the other. Then she joined her hands at the back of her neck. And always the mist of aura followed, as though it were itself an outline of some sort of shadow of the limbs.

Dr. Kilner's next experiment was to make hypokinetic passes in the direction of the patient, first from one side, then from the other side, while the patient stood beside her and raising his hand vertically bent over his hand, allowing his partly extended fingers to point downwards directly at the crown of her head. Every time these passes were made a fine streak of iridescent blue seemed to shoot out from the tip of each finger straight toward the subject.

The interviewer seems to have been halo could be seen most clearly. woman. His experience prompted him to inquire into the practical use of the discovery.

He was informed that it particularly made pain visible. The aura, he was told, varies in shade and density, in breadth and shape, according to the patient's health. An acute and lasting pain, such as sciatica, is rendered visible by the length to which the aura of a particular shade and density extends along the limb in which the pain is felt. The aura of a patient suffering from hysteria differs entirely in outline from that of one suffering from epilepsy.

Auras or halos of quick and intelligent children are more extensive than those of the dull and phlegmatic. The same thing applies to adults. The finest halos envelop the most intelligent. It is most noticeable around the head and more marked around men than women. The woman's halo is more variable.

ent parts of Canada for years. The contract at Prince Rupert was commenced in the fall of 1906 and completed last January. When Mr. McGill first went to Prince Rupert the city consisted of a few shacks along the water front and he remained there to see the first docks on the Pacific coast installed in the harbor and modern buildings erected to accommodate business the new shipping point. The bed of the railway in Prince Rupert and the site of the railway yards had to be cut from solid rock and it was in this work that Mr. McGill's firm was engaged for more than two years. The work was done under a sub-contract with the firm of Foley, Welsh and Stewart.

Speaking to the Capital yesterday Mr. McGill stated that the G. T. P. line is now in operation east from Prince Rupert a distance of 100 miles and that material is continually being shipped to the western termini for construction further into the interior of British Columbia. Quite a number of settlers are going east over the completed section of the road to find homes in the interior of B. C. and engaged in construction work in the city. Before going to Prince Rupert, Mr. McGill was engaged in double track construction work on the C. P. R. between Winnipeg and Fort William.

REAL ESTATE BULLETIN

There was considerable enquiry Thursday in spite of the disagreeable state of the weather, warehouse sites, on spur tracks, business sites on the East End Avenue being in demand for business purposes, while, in residential lots, the H. B. Reserve in West End and north of tracks and the Great Estate had the principal call.

In houses the West End was as usual, especially favored. We also had further enquiry for land for subdivision purposes which we were prepared to meet and now have deals pending for several such propositions.

ALBERTA PARK

There is a revival of interest in this suburb which is creditable to the intelligence of the investing public as we are offering this at a less price than surrounding lands are now offered "en bloc" for subdivision purposes.

Permit us the privilege of showing you its advantages.

Mrs. Case, Mrs. Clegg, Mrs. Engstrom and Mrs. Ginter, returned to the city on Tuesday evening. The men, motorized to Athabasca Landing and from there took scenic boat trip down the river.

The entire journey occupied a little more than three weeks. It was made with a view of looking into the resources of the country tributary to the Athabasca watershed.

Speaking to the Capital this morning regarding his trip, S. H. Smith said that he had been impressed with the good appearance of the unoccupied land lying along the shores of the Athabasca river. In a number of places he left the river and gave a short distance inland, found that the land was the best of agricultural soil.

Mr. Smith expressed the opinion that in spite of the construction of the Peace river line of the C. N. R. some distance west of Athabasca Landing, that town is bound to become a busy centre with the advent of the railway line from Edmonton.

On our way up stream, returning to the Landing we met 12 heavily laden scows belonging to the Northern Trading company and 19 Hudson's Bay company's scows, all taking goods from Athabasca Landing to northern points.

In addition to the scows there are steamers plying in both directions from the Landing, those going up stream for Lesser Slave Lake and the boats loaded down stream going toward the Arctic Ocean.

Even though the Peace river line of the C. N. R. does not west of Athabasca Landing, that point is bound to be for many years to come, the point where the northern waterways stretching over the entire Peace river country, will be tapped by the railway.

In addition to the scows there are steamers plying in both directions from the Landing, those going up stream for Lesser Slave Lake and the boats loaded down stream going toward the Arctic Ocean.

Even though the Peace river line of the C. N. R. does not west of Athabasca Landing, that point is bound to be for many years to come, the point where the northern waterways stretching over the entire Peace river country, will be tapped by the railway.

On our way up stream, returning to the Landing we met 12 heavily laden scows belonging to the Northern Trading company and 19 Hudson's Bay company's scows, all taking goods from Athabasca Landing to northern points.

DESTINED TO BE THRIVING PLACE

ATHABASCA LANDS HAS EXCELLENT PROSPECTS AND WILL MAKE PROSPEROUS CITY

After a trip to Athabasca Landing and down the Athabasca river to a point near Fort McMurray, a party of Edmonton business men, among whom were S. H. Smith, Dr. Sloan, A. E. Jackson and W. G. Ginter, returned to the city on Tuesday evening. The men, motorized to Athabasca Landing and from there took scenic boat trip down the river.

The entire journey occupied a little more than three weeks. It was made with a view of looking into the resources of the country tributary to the Athabasca watershed.

Speaking to the Capital this morning regarding his trip, S. H. Smith said that he had been impressed with the good appearance of the unoccupied land lying along the shores of the Athabasca river. In a number of places he left the river and gave a short distance inland, found that the land was the best of agricultural soil.

Mr. Smith expressed the opinion that in spite of the construction of the Peace river line of the C. N. R. some distance west of Athabasca Landing, that town is bound to become a busy centre with the advent of the railway line from Edmonton.

On our way up stream, returning to the Landing we met 12 heavily laden scows belonging to the Northern Trading company and 19 Hudson's Bay company's scows, all taking goods from Athabasca Landing to northern points.

AMUSEMENTS

EMPIRE THEATRE

For unique stage craft and unadulterated mirth, producing frivolity, the "Cat and the Fiddle" anything but ever got this far north, backed off the boards. As a comedian, Harry Watson is in there with his feet, and assisted by two other funny men in the persons of Hans and Mike. This made three Jacks, but Bert Russell blew back with a full house and took the money.

There is not much to the play, nor is the music overly bright, but its fun producing powers and new and wonderful stage effects keeps the audience going from start to finish.

Miss Lillian Wallace as the Genie carried the singing ability of the company together with happy worked in some very pretty duets. Geo. G. Wakefield as Great Gobs is the biggest devil you ever saw, and the cat, which he tames his studio, Harry Cleveland, Jack Westerman, Fred Snook, and Frank Snyder make up the quartette that handles most of the comedy, as well as several quartette numbers that were vigorously received.

The story makes a pleasing change from character make-up to evening dress before the audience.

"The Conservatory of Music" as presented last evening was very pleasing, and makes a splendid evening entertainment.

GOOD COMEDY AT THE LYCEUM

It made quite an agreeable change to step from the wet streets into the Lyceum theatre last night, and witness a first class production of "The Conservatory of Music" this little musical comedy, which is a most interesting and contains several songs that are "humdingers" as it were.

The happy tale pines at a music studio owned by Prossy Shinn, and the professor bears a name that is characteristic of the principles on which he runs his studio, Harry Cleveland, Jack Westerman, Fred Snook, and Frank Snyder make up the quartette that handles most of the comedy, as well as several quartette numbers that were vigorously received.
